A.T. THE BLACK & WHITE

Fresh from the Farm. Crafted for your Table.

A. T. The Black and White has been a beloved local landmark since the 1930s. What started as a humble burger joint has been transformed by owners Tomas and Amanda Zimmerman since they took over in 2006. Now a vibrant, retro eatery, A. T. The Black and White is known for its mouth-watering meals prepared with the freshest, locally sourced food available. Their commitment to local quality is evident in their weekly Farm to Table Specials, which highlight produce from key partners like Raising a Farmer and Smude Farms.

RAISING A FARMER

Eight miles south of Little Falls, the Rudolph family—Nathan, Brenda, Everett, and Vivian—operate a sixth-generation farm, Raising a Farmer. They raise livestock, grow their own feed, and sell locally. Their mission: grow food, grow community, and create a lasting legacy rooted in education, connection, and rural pride.

SMUDE FARMS

Since 1998, Tom and Jenni Smude have raised Black Angus cattle near Pierz, Minnesota, feeding them non-GMO corn, alfalfa/grass, and sunflower meal from their own sunflower oil production. They sell mainly direct to consumers and A.T. Black & White, focusing on relationships and quality local beef.
